

June 24, 2009

Greetings!

Thanks for praying for us and the Chaldean translation project. Salim has made some good progress on the book of Proverbs. Please continue to pray for God's guidance and wisdom. Also, please continue to pray that he will be successful in losing some weight to improve his high blood pressure.

Our youngest son Joel is now going through Basic Training for the Army National Guard at Ft. Sill, OK. Following the completion of this training in mid-August, he will continue on with advanced training through mid-September. Please pray that God will give him endurance and use this time to shape his character.

Susan and I will be representing Lutheran Bible Translators at the Michigan District LCMS Convention in Ann Arbor from June 28-July 1. We will both be at the booth on Sunday and Monday, and I will be there on Tuesday. If you're going to be at the Convention, please stop by and say hi.

God bless,

Jim Kaiser, Chaldean Translation Advisor, Lutheran Bible Translators